

A Joint Venture Project of  &  DOW UNIVERSITY of HEALTH SCIENCES

OUR PARTNERS

Our Network Of 1500+ Trained eDoctor in 27 Countries

In 2017 EDUCAST targeted an opportunity to retrain the much-needed female doctors, who had left the profession due to their social and family compulsions, through an academic collaboration with the leading Medical university of Pakistan, Dow University of Health Sciences and started an online refresher medical education certificate program for thousands of such Pakistani female doctors and launched

Using technology-based education through updated medical knowledge, these out of work home based lady doctors have started getting retrained and coming back into the national mainstream healthcare system, through the use of TeleHealth and Home based Video consultation eDOCTOR is creating a new paradigm shift in bringing back billions of rupees of government investments back into the healthcare services.

RESULTING

In 2023 there are now 1500+ Pakistan female doctors trained in Family Medicine, based in 27 international destinations

A large number of these eDocotor have also done advanced online certifications in ePharma, OBGYN, Infectious Disease, emergency medicine, clinical research and eldercare management.

COVID-19
CORONAVIRUS

At the time of COVID-19, eDOCTOR created an innovation platform by providing care for 450,000 COVID-19-isolated patients in Sindh province, Through 400+ doctors from 16 countries, and today they are regarded as valiant soldiers for their incredible contributions in saving thousands of people during Covid-19

eDOCTOR Our Global Network

600+
Pakistan

6+
Bahrain

13+
Qatar

61+
UAE

95+
Saudi Arabia

15+
UK

75+
Canada

50+
USA

For More information

+92 315 2067762

info@educast.co.uk

<https://edocotor.net.pk/>

88-L, Block 2, P.E.C.H.S, Karachi-Pakistan.